~ FROM YOUR DIO ~

Tsveti Markova, MD, FAAFP

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to all faculty, residents, and staff in working diligently with the GME office in accomplishing our institutional Action Plan objectives, as outlined in our AIR (Annual Institutional Review) Executive Summary. Our efforts into promoting faculty and resident scholarship culminated in the GME Seed Grant projects - congratulations to the three recipients! Most programs took advantage of GME and Shiffman’s library resource presentations delivered at individual sites. We are also proactive in disseminating that information through the newsletter and the GME website. Thank you for utilizing it to create such a positive culture of inquiry and academic focus. We are making strides in the CLER focus areas especially as it relates to Quality Improvement and Safety, Supervision, and Transitions of Care. We are currently designing a new project with emphasis on health care disparity with a kick off of the AIAIMC NI V at the end of October in Chicago. This will be followed by the implementation of extensive curriculum on education on disparity, cultural competency, population health and utilization of community-health assessments. Stay tuned for the roll out of the curriculum in January!

ACGME Update

ACGME ADS Updates - The 2015 ADS update period is in process. Five of our programs have completed their updates and the remaining programs reporting period opened on September 28th and will close on October 29. The ADS update is an important part of the ACGME accreditation process, the updates provide the RRCs with information which they will use to make accreditation decisions. This is a residency program’s opportunity to supply information that will enable the RRC to resolve citations, but depending on the information provided the RRC may also use the information supplied to continue existing citations or impose new citations. The ADS submissions this year have been outstanding with the program coordinators doing a great job keeping up with their program’s information.

SEMCME Conference - On September 18, 2015 the SEMCMF organization held their annual Fall Conference for Residency Coordinators and GME Specialists: A Forum for Exchange and Innovation. The conference was held at St. Mary Mercy Hospital in Livonia. There were a few new changes this year with the addition of breakout sessions and the opportunity for attendees to submit posters with information on residency administration best practices. Ingrid Ciungan, the Program Coordinator for Ophthalmic Plastic Fellowship co-presented a session entitled “Basic Survey Methods: Design and Implementation,” Madelynn Farkas, the Program Coordinator for the Anesthesiology Residency Program had a poster entitled “Best-Practice for Technology as a Residency Coordinator,” and Martha Jordan, from the GME office co-presented a session titled “New Innovations: Pearls and Pitfalls.” Martha was also on the planning committee for the program. There was an overwhelmingly positive response from the attendees who came from all over Southeastern Michigan. This was a great opportunity to network with peers from other institutions!

New Innovations - Martha and Nora will be attending the NI conference for GME administrators October 19 - 21. We are looking forward to bringing back the latest and greatest updates in the RMS software.
